

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact:
Clay Adams
RSG Inc.
802-295-4999 ext. 107
cadams@rsginc.com
www.rsginc.com

RSG Relocates Burlington Office

Consultancy moves to new Main Street Landing office

White River Junction/Burlington, VT – September 2006 – RSG Inc., a consultancy with headquarters in White River Junction will move its Burlington-based staff to space in Main Street Landing. “It’s a great location for our staff and clients and a nice fit for our business” said Tom Adler, RSG’s President.

RSG’s practice areas include transportation planning, energy, environment and acoustics, technology, and market research. Joe Segale, a Senior Project Consultant based in RSG’s South Burlington office, is excited about the move. “As transportation engineers and planners, we encourage environmentally mindful development that supports established downtown areas. Main Street Landing has done a great job of co-locating service, retail, non-profit, restaurant, cultural, and housing space. Visitors get a lot for their trip.”

Currently located on Route 2 in South Burlington, RSG will move to Main Street Landing on November 1, 2006. A growing firm, RSG’s new space will accommodate current and future staff. A third RSG office is located in Chicago, IL.

You can read more about Main Street Landing’s sustainable development here:

<http://www.mainstreetlanding.com/projects/lakeandcollege.php>

About RSG Inc. – RSG specializes in planning, analysis, and management of business, infrastructure and natural resources. We believe that high-quality, objective analysis is a prerequisite to resolving complex problems. More than just analysts, scientists, and technicians, we’re communicators – our study results are clear, concise, and directly applicable to a client’s particular questions and challenges. Our solutions are creative and grounded by 20 years of experience with clients as large as federal government agencies and FORTUNE 500 companies or as small as local interest groups and townships.

